

“Art washes away from the soul
the dust of everyday life.”

~ Pablo Picasso

“White Dove” composed by Artist Annie in 2014.

Two artists pose for a photo during open studio hours.

“Mask Red” composed by Artist Fredrick in 2014.

Artist Ron at Charlotte Country Day School making pottery.

ArtWorks 945 relies on dedicated volunteers to expand and strengthen the program. Here are a variety of ways to get involved:

For Individuals:

- Studio Supervisor: Support operations during open studio time by assisting artists and managing supplies.
- Art Instructor: Offer instruction and workshops in a variety of artistic disciplines. Teach techniques and provide feedback to attending artists.
- Visiting Artist: Spend time with neighbors in a shared art-making experience. Discuss personal narrative and lead a workshop according to artistic discipline.
- Program Ambassador: Foster relationships with local organizations to promote ArtWorks 945. Create opportunities outside the studio for our artists and their work.
- Administrative Support: Assist ArtWorks 945 with administrative tasks. May include data entry, computer based projects, community-based research, or creating content for social media.

For Groups: Come with your group to work on your own or alongside neighbors. We welcome groups to bring their own creative projects as well! Times are flexible and may be molded to fulfill both your needs and those of ArtWorks 945.

For more information contact Maria Mazzocco at:
mmazzocco@urbanministrycenter.org or 704-369-7612.

About ArtWorks 945

ArtWorks 945 helps people facing homelessness experience transformation through art. We recognize art as an expression of our thoughts, feelings, and observations, and believe it is also an exceptional tool for healing.

Can you help? The program always needs art supplies. Here are a few items from our wish list that can be delivered to our studio at 945 N. College St.:

- Blank canvas
- Acrylic paint
- Paint brushes
- Drawing pads
- Markers
- Pencils

“ArtWorks 945 is my inspiration, and gives me the motivation to keep the faith on this journey of homelessness and unemployment.” ~ Ireta

To become a volunteer, fill out an online volunteer form at:
www.urbanministrycenter.org

Our mission The Urban Ministry Center is an interfaith organization dedicated to bringing the community together to end homelessness... one life at a time. For the range of our daily services and life-changing programs, visit www.urbanministrycenter.org.

The Urban Ministry Center is a registered 501 (c) (3). All contributions are tax-deductible.

